TCS World Travel: Eight National Parks

The world leader in private-jet travel, Seattle-based TCS World Travel has spent the past 25 years routing clients between destinations at an unprecedented pace. This tour connects a remarkable eight national parks in 10 days. For the first three days, travelers check into Wyoming's Amangani and have the options of going on private safaris in Yellowstone and Grand Teton National Park, having lunch on a historic cattle ranch, or taking a sleigh ride to Granite Hot Springs. Then they fly on a chartered private plane to Moab's Sorrel River Ranch to stay in a snug, custom-built cabin. Spend two days hiking and horseback riding through the magnificent red and ochre terrain of Moab, Arches National Park, and Canyonland National Park. A 45-minute jet ride fast-tracks guests to their next stop, a private ranch house on the outskirts of Zion, where guests explore both Bryce Canyon and Zion. Here, activities range from UTV tours to stargazing to rappelling down canyons. The final stop is Utah's Amangiri, a base for exploring the Grand Canyon by helicopter and foot. If weather permits, an al fresco desert dinner, surrounded by the towering canyons, is one of the itinerary highlights.
